this skin we're in

4 - 8pm Wednesday
2 July 2014

We're making tea amidst the rubble.
The house is feeling fragile.
If you yell the walls tremble and let the light in.

A new story project by Martha Orbach about daily life in the aftermath, set in the shifting borderlands of fact and fiction, you and me. Told through an animation and series of prints, the project examines domesticity, family mental illness, and how we absorb our environment.

Show open:
Thursday 26 June -
Friday 25 July

Bethlem Gallery, Bethlem Royal Hospital,
Monks Orchard Road, BR3 3BX
